

About the NCFA...

The North Carolina Forestry Association, the state's oldest forest conservation organization, was established in 1911.

While the NCFA's role has evolved over its history, its membership remains committed to sustaining the long-term health and productivity of the state's forests through positive policies and programs toward environmental issues.

A private non-profit organization of over 4,200 landowners, forest managers, mill operators, loggers, furniture manufacturers and educators, the NCFA offers a variety of programs and services to forest landowners, the general public and forestry professionals that promote responsible use and management of our state's forest resources.

North Carolina's healthy, productive and diverse forests cover 58% of the state and demonstrate the success NCFA members have enjoyed in actively managing our forests.

Currently, North Carolina has twice as much forestland than it did some 70 years ago.

The forest products industry is North Carolina's number one manufacturing industry in terms of employment and wages, according to the latest statistics collected by the College of Natural Resources at North Carolina State University. The textiles figures include textile mills, textile product mills and apparel manufacturing while the forest products statistics include logging, wood products, paper and wood furniture.

Hunting Lease Liability Insurance Coverage Information

Available to landowners and hunt clubs in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia

The North Carolina Forestry Association's Hunting Lease Liability Insurance policy for landowners and hunt clubs is designed to cover hunt club activities on any NCFA member's land that is leased to a hunt club.

The one-year policy goes into effect August 1 and expires August 1st of the following year.

Land covered under the policy cannot be subleased and must be located in North Carolina, South Carolina or Virginia.

The policy offers broader coverage than it has in the past, it is strictly hunting lease liability insurance and does not take the place of liability insurance unrelated to leased hunting activities.

Each distinct owner of the land (whether the owner is an individual, partnership, trust, corporation or other) must maintain a membership in the NCFA and qualify for insurance coverage by filling out a separate application form.

Since the policy names both the landowner and the hunt club as insureds, each receives a certificate of insurance, and each must be a member of the NCFA.

The NCFA requires that each ownership and hunt club be represented by a person who has the legal authority to represent the ownership or hunt club.

The NCFA annual membership fee for landowners is $40 for ownership of up to 500 acres plus $0.02 per acre for any acres above 500.

The annual membership fee for hunt clubs is $55 per club. These fees provide a one-year membership in the NCFA and include all the benefits of membership.

Both the hunt club and the landowner must be NCFA members in good standing to qualify for insurance.

If you are not sure whether you or your landowner is a member of the NCFA, please call (919) 834-3943 or (800) 231-7723 to verify your membership.

IMPORTANT!!

Please include two separate checks/money orders:

NCFA dues for landowners and hunt clubs must be made out to the NCFA and may be combined in one check/money order.

The insurance premium must be made out to the NCFA, but it must be in a separate check/money order. Note: The insurance premium cannot be prorated.

Mail the checks/money orders and the application form to:
NCFA, 1600 Glenwood Avenue,
Suite I
Raleigh, NC 27608

If you have any questions please call the NCFA at (919) 834-3943, ext. 26 or (800) 231-7723.

Benefits of NCFA Membership

The NCFA staff actively represents the association and its members with the state legislature, regulatory bodies and the N.C. Congressional delegation. This includes direct contact with legislative representatives, offering testimony on key issues, briefing legislators and conducting tours to educate them on forestry and forest management. The association aggressively seeks legislation to improve forest management and to protect landowners and their private property rights.

The NCFA staff provides technical assistance to members in interpreting regulations and laws that may impact forest management activities and decisions. A cascade of regulations and laws and increased public concern about forestry practices mandate a strong positive response from forestry.

The NCFA holds local workshops for members to keep them abreast of legislative and regulatory issues affecting them and their land.

The NCFA newsletter, TreeLine, keeps all members up to date on key issues and the activities of the association.

Membership in the NCFA is the best investment you can make to protect your rights as an individual and to assure your continued ability to practice sound forest management.

For more information about the benefits of NCFA membership, please call (919) 834-3943 or (800) 231-7723 or visit our website: www.ncforestry.org.
