

DYNAMIC MARKETS & SUSTAINABLE OPPORTUNITIES

OVERVIEW

Please mark your calendar today! The NCFA's Annual Meeting, "Dynamic Markets & Sustainable Opportunities" will take place in New Bern on October 2-4, 2013 at the DoubleTree by Hilton New Bern - Riverfront. Last year, over 200 members attended the meeting held in Asheville. The room rate for the Hilton will be $139 and members are encouraged to make their reservations ASAP by calling (252) 638-3585.

The format of the meeting will be the same as in the past, starting with a recreational activity on Wednesday afternoon followed by a welcome reception. The welcome reception will include a special recognition of the younger professionals within our membership attending the meeting.

The Thursday speaking program will focus on three elements: the forest resource; markets, both old and new; and the opportunities that are available to landowners, loggers and members of the forest products industry. The list of speakers has not been finalized at this point, but it will be a full day workshop worthy of CFE credits.

Thursday night is when the NCFA and Forestry Mutual will hand out their annual awards and a band will provide entertainment into the evening. A silent auction complete with unique hunting opportunities and other quality items will conclude on Thursday evening.

On Friday, the meeting will wrap up with a Board of Directors meeting.

Members can save $50 on their meeting fee by registering before September 8, 2013. Full registration will be $300.00 before the September 8th date. Meeting registration will be $200 for spouses and for those who would like to register for the Thursday only option, registration will be $200.

Please contact Bob Schaefer at (800) 231-7723 ext. 5 or bschaefer@ncforestry.org if you have any questions about this year's meeting.
